The connection between hematology and oncology is that both fields overlap due to the presence of cancers of the blood. Hematology is the study of blood and its diseases while oncology is the study of cancer. Three cancers affect the blood: leukemia, lymphoma and myeloma. Physicians who specialize in oncology generally receive training in hematology; the opposite is also true.

What Is the Connection between Hematology and Oncology?

Gives you practice problems, yet changes the format completely for the final so you don't even know what he's asking. Makes a huge amount of mistakes in his examples, yet the answers on the final are highly dependent upon rounding.
