In linguistics, a yes-no question, formally known as a polar question or a general question is a question whose expected answer is either "yes" or "no". Formally, they present an exclusive disjunction, a pair of alternatives of which only one is acceptable. In English, such questions can be formed in both positive and negative forms (e.g. "Will you be here tomorrow?")

Energy moves through the food chain from life form to life form. The first step is always photosynthesis in which the sun's radiant energy, that pours onto the earth everyday, is turned into carbohydrate molecules. These carbohydrates are used by all living things as fuel for energy, and as building blocks to build more pieces of themselves.
